

Client-Server Architecture

Figure: a client sends a request; the server returns a response.

Load Balancing

Figure: a load balancer distributes requests across replicas.

Cache Layer

Figure: a cache sits between the application and the database.

